ICSM is always looking for ways to elevate and recognize the companies and individuals that are truly raising the bar when it comes to professionalism and safety in the trucking industry.

Share the Road With Trucks --

Driver Education Program

Thousands of young drivers have benefited from the ICSM's driver education program. ICSM members travel to high schools from across the state and share their valuable information and expertise on how to share the road with big trucks. This program not only provides these young drivers with important information, it highlights the industry by giving us yet another opportunity to promote the importance of Iowa's trucking industry.
